54 HOW YOU CAN HELP

TO OUR SUPPORTERS

In 2021, just as we have since our founding in 1984, we responded to every major outbreak of conflict, disaster and disease globally. And, as we have always done, our efforts included training—the cornerstone of our mission and our impact. Every year, we train thousands of frontline health workers and community members, helping them gain the skills and knowledge they need to become effective first responders and self-reliant.

AFGHANISTAN

In the face of a new conflict, we are rising to the challenge. Earlier this year, the war in Ukraine shook the region and the world, creating humanitarian needs at a level not seen since World War II. International Medical Corps, which has a history of providing assistance in Ukraine since 1999, rapidly expanded our efforts inside the country and in the neighboring countries of Poland, Moldova and Romania in response to the crisis. We are working to ensure continuity of healthcare by providing medical, mental health and protection services, along with hundreds of tons of critical medicines, supplies and equipment. We are rehabilitating and strengthening primary healthcare centers and hospitals damaged in or threatened by the fighting, and are ensuring that these facilities, and their surrounding communities, have access to water, sanitation and hygiene resources. And, of course, we're focusing on training, providing healthcare professionals and first responders with the skills and knowledge they need to provide long-term support to their communities. Thanks to your support, we'll be able to continue helping people affected by this crisis for as long as they need us.

In 2021, the focus of our work remained on the COVID-19 pandemic, as our dedicated staff and volunteers continued to meet—and overcome—new challenges to providing vital care and training in some of the most demanding environments imaginable. After battling the most intense, widespread healthcare crisis in our lifetime throughout much of 2020, we began the year with cautious optimism, driven by the arrival of lifesaving vaccines. However, COVID-19 vaccination campaigns faced enormous hurdles—including supply bottlenecks and transportation challenges.

But we had encountered this before. International Medical Corps has decades of experience battling outbreaks of infectious disease—from helping to eradicate wild polio in Africa, to treating cholera in Yemen, to supporting measles vaccinations in Pakistan. Throughout 2021, the vaccination campaigns we conducted or supported globally were tailored to the needs of each country, helping to ensure their success. We also provided thousands of vaccinations here at home—in California, Puerto Rico and Texas—and continued to support hundreds of overwhelmed health facilities and hospitals worldwide.

As we have done throughout our history, we continued to prepare for and respond to emergencies. From conflict in Afghanistan, Ethiopia and Yemen, to flooding in Europe, to hurricanes and tornadoes in the US, our teams were where they were needed most.

In June, we increased our already-robust emergency-response capacity when the World Health Organization classified us as an Emergency Medical Team (EMT) Type 1 provider, Fixed and Mobile. We're proud to note that we are the only NGO in the world with this classification. In August, this expanded capacity was tested when a 7.2-magnitude earthquake struck Haiti, leaving more than 650,000 people in need of humanitarian assistance. We deployed our team and EMT facility, enabling our staff and volunteers to provide lifesaving healthcare services to many thousands of people.

Of course, all of this is possible because of you. Your generosity enabled our 7,500 staff members and countless volunteers across some 30 countries reach more than 18 million people last year with comprehensive healthcare and training programs.

Whether we're working in Afghanistan, Ethiopia, South Sudan, Ukraine or the US, it's our people who make our organization exceptional—from our hardworking staff and volunteers to our incredible family of donors. We give you our heartfelt thanks for helping us accomplish all that we did in 2021. Despite the challenges facing us in 2022, we look forward to all that we will achieve together.

OUR MISSION

WE ARE A GLOBAL FIRST RESPONDER

JORDAN

We provide training and deliver emergency healthcare, along with related services, to those affected by conflict, natural disaster or disease. We do this no matter where they may be in the world or what the conditions. We train people in their own communities, providing them with the skills they need to recover, to chart their own path to self-reliance and to shape their own future as they become effective first responders themselves.

OUR APPROACH

SPEED SAVES LIVES

DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF THE CONGO

Our emergency response teams deploy fast to assist those in great need—often arriving within hours to reach those even in the most remote, challenging environments.

We draw on experience gained in 37 years of responding to disasters in more than 80 countries on six continents. Our surge capacity includes physicians and nurses trained in emergency medicine, supported by specialists in essential healthcare services that range from mental health and psychosocial support to technical expertise in gender-based violence, nutrition, and water, sanitation and hygiene. We maintain our capacity to respond quickly because speed saves lives in the initial hours following a disaster.

As conditions ease, we stay on and partner with survivors to build a better, more independent future for those we're helping. The key to our approach is training—an essential component of all our programs, used to transfer the latest knowledge and skills into local hands, to help ensure a brighter future. We strengthen local health systems and work with community leaders, hire and train local staff, develop partnerships and evaluate progress to ensure quality outcomes.

With a staff that numbers more than 7,500 worldwide, 97% of whom are recruited locally, our strategy ensures that the knowledge and tools required to prepare for—and respond to—future emergencies are culturally compatible and remain available in the community. We work to ensure that if disaster strikes again, residents can themselves be their own first responders.

HAITI

LEBANON

OUR PROGRAMS

Though 2021 presented many challenges, we continued to provide valuable services and training for those who needed it most. We worked with communities worldwide to help millions of people chart their journey from relief to self-reliance.

CAMEROON

EMERGENCY RESPONSE AND PREPAREDNESS

While we continued our COVID-19 response around the world, we responded to a number of rapid-onset emergencies. When a massive earthquake hit Haiti, our staff and volunteers deployed with our field hospital and provided vital health services to thousands of people. When conflict escalated in Afghanistan, we launched mobile teams in Kabul to provide emergency services to displaced people. In India and Nepal, we responded to a devastating surge in COVID-19, providing much-needed equipment and medicines. When flooding swept through Western Europe, our staff worked to provide rapid assistance to families who lost so much. When a fuel tanker explosion rocked Lebanon, we sent medical supplies and medicines to hospitals treating burns and other injuries. And when Hurricane Ida struck Louisiana and tornadoes swept through the Midwest, our teams helped communities recover.

NUTRITION AND FOOD SECURITY

In Sudan, we screened 347,240 children for malnutrition as part of an effort to identify and refer malnourished children and pregnant and nursing women for treatment early, before they develop complications.

MENTAL HEALTH AND PSYCHOSOCIAL SUPPORT

As part of our programs in Lebanon that offer mental health care services to Syrian refugees and other vulnerable groups, we provided 95,588 MHPSS consultations.

WATER, SANITATION AND HYGIENE

In Yemen, where critical infrastructure has been destroyed by nearly a decade of conflict, we delivered 22,313,785 liters of water to communities in need.

WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S HEALTH

In Nigeria, we helped to ensure that 12,846 births were assisted by a skilled birth attendant; in the Central African Republic, we treated 96,229 children for malaria.

FAMILY AND COMMUNITY HEALTH

In South Sudan, we played a key role in the country's COVID-19 response, serving as co-lead of the national Case Management and Infection Protection and Control Working Group and managing the country's largest infectious disease unit. We also supported the national COVID-19 vaccine deployment plan—our team vaccinated 1,871 people in Malakal, 2,286 in Wau and 773 in the Juba camp for internally displaced persons (IDPs).

HEALTH SERVICES SUPPORT

In response to the ongoing conflict in the Tigray region of Ethiopia, we operated 23 mobile medical units, which reached more than 590,000 IDPs settled in 39 IDP sites and provided 210,300 outpatient consultations.

TRAINING

SOUTH SUDAN

MORE THAN

37 YEARS OF TRAINING

Since 1984, when we embarked on our first response in Afghanistan, training has been an essential part of our work. We provide training to help communities move from recovery to self-reliance, and gain greater control of their future. In 2021, we continued to provide lifesaving training in first aid and basic life support, and trained health workers on COVID-19 protocols, including preventive measures and vaccine delivery. We also expanded the reach of our programming by making more of our programs accessible online.

PHILIPPINES

PHILIPPINES

International Medical Corps responded to several emergencies in the Philippines in 2021, including Typhoons Goni and Vamco. As part of the responses, our team trained health personnel and community volunteers on infection prevention and control measures and on basic life support in typhoon-affected areas. “Now I understand that there is a proper way of handling vehicular accident patients,” said Mark Israel G. Ibañez, a Public Safety Officer who our completed basic life-support training. “Before, when we arrived at the scene of an accident, we immediately carried the patient to the side of the road, so that traffic would not build up. Thanks to International Medical Corps, I learned that it is important to first check a patient’s condition. If you’re unsure, you should not move the patient until trained medical personnel arrive. While waiting for the trained medical personnel, make sure that the patient is safe and that the crowd is under control. Doing it this way ensures that the patient will not sustain unintended additional injuries.”

PRINCIPLES OF PSYCHOLOGICAL FIRST AID

In 2021, with the support of long-time collaborator FedEx, International Medical Corps partnered with DisasterReady to bring our online training course, Principles of Psychological First Aid (PPFA), to a larger audience. International Medical Corps designed the PPFA course for first responders who work with people affected by crisis. It covers supportive listening, normal stress responses, positive coping mechanisms and the importance of connecting people with the support they need. The course is free and currently offered in Arabic, English, French, Spanish and Ukrainian, with certificates of completion from International Medical Corps awarded to those who finish. In 2021, more than 1,000 participants from 118 countries completed the curriculum.

IN 2021

WE TRAINED

77,625

people through 3,902 training sessions covering a range of health-related issues.

5,657

people on communicable disease management and control.

3,459

people in the basics of administering psychological first aid.

BY THE NUMBERS

In 2021, International Medical Corps responded directly to the needs of more than 18 million people in 30 countries on five continents, including more than 1 million people in the United States.

HAITI

AMONG THE RESULTS OF OUR WORK:

18 MILLION DIRECT BENEFICIARIES

Of these, nearly 3 MILLION were children under 5. Our work also reached more than 88 MILLION others who benefited indirectly from our programs and work.

6 MILLION MEDICAL CONSULTATIONS

Of these, more than 1.7 MILLION were children under 5.

255,417 CHILDREN VACCINATED AGAINST MEASLES

Vaccinating children protects future generations from the dangers of measles and builds more resilient immune systems.

77,625 PARTICIPANTS TRAINED

This included International Medical Corps clinical and non-clinical staff, government and non-government staff, community health workers and volunteers.

1,615 HEALTH FACILITIES SUPPORTED

In 2021, we supported 218 hospitals, more than 40 of them in the United States. To reach people in underserved, often remote areas, we operated 147 mobile clinics and provided vital assistance to 1,136 primary health facilities, including smaller clinics and health centers.

WOMEN'S AND CHILDREN'S HEALTH

The key to our future

Ensured that 98,020 births were assisted by a trained birth attendant.

NUTRITION

The foundation of life

Provided 1,479,847 people with critical nutrition support, and 411,010 people with infant and young-child feeding services.

WATER, SANITATION AND HYGIENE

The essence of good health

Helped more than 3.8 million people with water, sanitation and hygiene needs.

MENTAL HEALTH CARE AND PSYCHOSOCIAL SUPPORT

The invisible wounds

Provided MHPSS services to 930,687 people through hundreds of service delivery points, mobile teams and other means of delivery.

GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

A violation of fundamental human rights

Offered protection and support to 1,579,510 people living with the threat—or reality—of gender-based violence.

WHERE WE WORK

virtual WOMEN'S LUNCHEON

In May, for the second year in a row, we hold our Annual Women's Luncheon virtually. About 150 guests join President and CEO Nancy Aossey to enjoy a special presentation from Top Chef contestant Michelle Minori, as well as cooking demonstrations from International Medical Corps staff members from around the world. They also hear firsthand reports from our nutrition experts in Nigeria, Puerto Rico and Yemen, and learn more about our COVID-19 vaccination campaign in Los Angeles. The committee for the luncheon includes Sussie Aller, Avery Barth, Emma Bing, Pam Brendlinger, Laurie Cappello, Linda Cappello, Julie Carmen, Anjini Desai, Debbie Fisher, Jac Forbes, Jennifer Kell, Ellen Lipson, Pamela Mohn, Heidi Murkoff, Michelle Richman, Heidi Schulman, Leslie Thurman and Christine Toretti.

INTERACTION HUMANITARIAN AWARD

In April, Dr. Nebras Khaled, Health Program Manager in Yemen, is awarded InterAction's Humanitarian Award, which recognizes individuals or organizations for their outstanding contributions to the humanitarian sector.

SUNDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

In November, we are featured in a commercial with our longtime supporter FedEx and NFL Hall of Fame player Eric Dickerson. The commercial is shot at the International Medical Corps office in Los Angeles, with President & CEO Nancy Aossey joining FedEx and International Medical Corps staff assembling wound-care kits for people affected by the earthquake in Haiti, as part of the FedEx Cares initiative. The commercial airs nationally during NBC's Sunday Night Football.

INFLUENCERS STEP UP

Individual supporters also pitch in, with some holding their own fundraisers on our behalf and encouraging direct donations.

- ▶ Sanaa Lathan brings awareness to our mental health programs and emergency responses and encourages direct donations to support our work.
- ▶ Inanna Sarkis shares information about our work with Syrian refugees, helping to raise funds for International Medical Corps.
- ▶ Salma Hayek and Judy Greer promote International Medical Corps on Giving Tuesday as an organization to support.
- ▶ Kate Hudson recommends donating to our Afghanistan emergency relief fund.
- ▶ Maz Jobrani, who began taking 5-mile runs during the pandemic to preserve his sanity, invites others to join him in his runs—using the hashtag #RunWithMaz—and donate to International Medical Corps.
- ▶ Dr. Michael Paterson, an emergency physician and emergency response volunteer, summits Mount Everest and raises funds for International Medical Corps.
- ▶ Nicolas Chien, a high school graduate who survived a major car accident on his bike, cycles almost 3,000 miles from New York to Los Angeles to raise awareness about healthcare access—as well as funds for our lifesaving work.

ONLINE IMPACT

As we respond to emergencies abroad and here at home—including ongoing challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic—our supporters move quickly to promote and fundraise for our efforts to strengthen health systems worldwide, administer COVID-19 vaccinations and provide urgently needed health services.

- ▶ Actor and International Medical Corps Global Ambassador Inanna Sarkis partners with Omaze, which raises funds through online auctions, contests and experiences, to auction off a Porsche sports car to support International Medical Corps.

- ▶ In targeted efforts to promote cryptocurrency donations via social media, we receive generous donations through multiple coins, including Bitcoin, Dogecoin, Ethereum, Litecoin and Zcash.
- ▶ The Saudi Arabian Federation for Electronic and Intellectual Sports hosts a large fundraising effort through an e-sports tournament called Gamers Without Borders, with 460,000 gamers from 141 countries participating. We are one of several global first responders promoting COVID-19 vaccines that gamers choose to support, and International Medical Corps representatives Dr. John Roberts and Dr. Ons Alkhadra are interviewed.
- ▶ Tuun, which connects gamers with charities they support, partners with professional gamer SuperEvan and Chicago Bears kicker Cairo Santos; they play the video game Call of Duty: Warzone with fans to raise funds for International Medical Corps.

ANNUAL AWARDS CELEBRATION

With COVID-19 prevention guidelines on large social gatherings still in place, hundreds of friends, supporters and guests of International Medical Corps once again gather virtually for the AAC, sharing a fast-paced production that inspires, educates and entertains attendees.

The virtual event, which raises more than $1.2 million, is led by (from upper left) Master of Ceremonies Jarl Mohn and International Medical Corps President and CEO Nancy Aossey, and features dramatic footage of our lifesaving work around the world. Actor and International Medical Corps Global Ambassador Sienna Miller and actor and activist Judy Greer talk about their volunteer experiences with us, while comedian Maz Jobrani emphasizes the importance of our work. After Nancy presents the Global Citizen Award to our long-time collaborator FedEx, actor and activist Genevieve Angelson presents the Dr. Henry Hood Distinguished Service Award to Yvonne Grouenhout, an intensive-care unit nurse and International Medical Corps volunteer. She is followed by International Medical Corps Founder and Chairman Dr. Bob Simon, who presents the Founder’s Award to Dr. Abdou Sebushishe, our Medical Director in South Sudan. Other participants include Tim Wertner, Senior Vice President, FedEx; Leadership Council members Tanya and Aaron Perlmutter; and the Los Angeles Doctors Symphony Orchestra.

PARTNERSHIPS

UNITED STATES

WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION EMT CLASSIFICATION

When the World Health Organization (WHO) classified International Medical Corps in June as an Emergency Medical Team (EMT) Type 1 provider for both Fixed and Mobile configurations, we became the only non-governmental organization (NGO) in the world with these capabilities. The classification—the result of two years of work and partnership with the WHO—recognizes our ability to deploy and set up a field hospital capable of providing outpatient services to a minimum of 100 patients per day (Fixed) and a minimum of 50 patients per day (Mobile) within 48 hours of a rapid-onset emergency anywhere in the world.

BUILDING A BETTER RESPONSE

International Medical Corps has led the Building a Better Response (BBR) project since 2012, working in partnership with Concern Worldwide and the Harvard Humanitarian Initiative to train thousands of people each year doing emergency relief work at the local, regional and national level. We fill critical knowledge gaps for staff from local and national NGOs, as well as other stakeholders responding to emergencies. As part of our commitment to continue the project during the COVID-19 pandemic, we transitioned these training opportunities to an online platform, designing and delivering workshops virtually throughout 2021. The remote sessions featured greater interactivity—including knowledge checks, interactive quizzes and other activities—to ensure strong participant engagement and maximize learning. This virtual approach expanded the project's reach, enabling people from 24 countries in Latin America and the Caribbean, East Africa and South Asia to participate. To learn more, visit: BuildingABetterResponse.org

UN ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL SPECIAL CONSULTATIVE STATUS

In 2021, International Medical Corps was granted special consultative status by the UN Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC), which is responsible for the direction and coordination of the social, economic, humanitarian and cultural activities carried out by the United Nations. The consultative status enables us to engage with ECOSOC and its subsidiary bodies in several ways, including through written statements, oral presentations and designated representatives, at sessions conducted at the United Nations.

LEADERSHIP

International Medical Corps is a global humanitarian alliance that comprises the resources and capabilities of three independent affiliate organizations: International Medical Corps, International Medical Corps Croatia and International Medical Corps (UK). Together, our mission is to save lives and relieve suffering by providing healthcare and training. With headquarters in the United States, Croatia and the United Kingdom respectively, we collaborate to maximize resources for the delivery of appropriate relief and development activities.
